Step Six Prayer

In this moment, I am entirely ready to be free of all my shortcomings. In this moment, I am ready to surrender these defects of character to God, knowing that the power of willingness to heal is great. Each new Step I take in my recovery, no matter how small it may appear, is an affirmation of my wholeness.

Co-Dependents Anonymous of San Diego is a fellowship of men and women whose common purpose is to develop healthy relationships. The only requirement for membership is a desire for healthy and loving relationships. We rely on the Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions for knowledge and wisdom. These are the principles of our program and guides to developing honest and fulfilling relationships. Through applying the steps and principles in CoDA to our daily life and relationships, both present and past, we can experience a new freedom from our self-defeating lifestyles and realize a new joy, acceptance and serenity in our lives. Steps, Traditions, Concepts & Promises

Step 6: Were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.

Tradition 6: A CoDA group ought never endorse, finance, or lend the CoDA name to any related facility or outside enterprise, lest problems of money, property and prestige divert us from our primary spiritual aim.

Service Concept 6: The Fellowship guarantees trusted servants the right and authority to freely make decisions commensurate with their responsibilities and the right to participate in group conscience decisions affecting their responsibilities. Each CoDA member is also guaranteed the right to respectfully dissent during the group conscience decision making process. A member may freely and safely express any personal grievances as long as no particular person or group is unexpectedly singled out as the subject of the grievance. Members are encouraged to honor their own integrity as well as the integrity of others.

Promise 6: I learn to see myself as equal to others. My new and renewed relationships are all with equal partners.

LETTING GO OF PEOPLE PLEASING

The codependent characteristic of people pleasing may have been based on my alcoholic parent always saying “no”, sometimes before the question was completely out of my mouth. “Mom, can I...” NO.

Needing approval, needing a “yes” that never came, I sought that approval from others. I’d go out of my way to be “liked”. If I got into an elevator with a stranger I’d know their history before we reached our floor, and they would “like” me. With the help of my Higher Power, whom I call God, CoDA has brought me to a new level of authenticity. I can love myself and see myself more as my loving God sees me. Love brought an acceptance of me as I am, gifts and flaws and all. I do not need to define myself by what another person thinks of me. Letting go of my neediness was painful, working the program and recognizing character defects hard, but necessary for my healing.

This new way is better. Remember that “the only requirement for membership is a desire for healthy and loving relationships”...thank God this is becoming true for me. Love is key in my relationship with God, with myself, and with others. Thank you, CoDA.

The opinions expressed in CoDA Moments are those of the person who wrote them. Take what you like and leave the rest.

In this moment I let go of my need for approval.

Today I work on loving and valuing myself. As my need for approval from others decreases, my level of happiness increases. I view myself as a whole, lovable person. (CoDA literature – In This Moment)
